BROOKLYN, 6; PITTSBUBG, 3.

Pirranuno, Aug. 29. - McJames's clever twirling prevented the Pirates from becoming familiar with the base path to-day, but it was Tom Daly's three-base drive to left centre in the fifth inning that clinched another victory for Hanlon's Superbas. Up to that round Donovan's men had a lead of one run and Jones opened the fifth by striking out. Keeler drew the local infield in by making a pretence at bunting and then hit sharply for second. Ely fielded Jennings's grounder and touched second, but not until after the speedy Keeler had reached that bag, so both runners were Kelley's fly to Ely made the second out, but Day turned the tide by making his long hit, which scored Keeler and Jennings, making enough runs to win. Daly was caught at the plate after Dahlen had got a base on balls. In an attempt to steal home on Schriever's futile effort to eatch the short-stop napping at first. The Firstes scored all their runs in the first two innings. In the first Beaumont was hit by a pitched ball and stole second, scoring on Williams's two-bagger. Williams stole second and scored on Donovan's single. In the next inning a mull by Dalv, a sacrifice and leaver's single scored the third and last run, Jones's triple and Jennings's long fly scored a run for the hastlers in the first inning, and a drop by Bowerman, followed by Jennings's triple, produced another in the third. Day turned the tide by making his long hit, in the third.

After the lifth, when Daly's drive did so much damage to Pittsburg's hopes, no more runs were scored until the ninth, when singles by Jennings Kelly and Dahlen netted two more. Jone's fielding was again brilliant, his catch of Williams's fly in the second being the best play of the game. The score:

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—The crippled New York team surprised themselves to-day by scoring a comparatively easy victory over the Kough Bilders. Although Gettig was batted hard by Burns's men in Monday's game, he went into the box to-day and pitched glit-edged ball from start to finish. He had little speed; but his slow curves puzzled Chicago s sluggers and three of their seven safe hits were rank scratches. Garvin, who did the pitching for Chicago, was in good form, but received poor support. The blunders of the local infielders, coupled with a timely bunching of hits, enabled the visitors to win out without much difficulty. The fielding of Gleason and the batting of Van Haltren were the features of a tame and coloriess contest. Attendance, 600. The score. NEW YORK, 6; CHICAGO, 2.

The latest yarn about the "new league" is that Freedman will tacitly let the promoters have Manhattan Field and allow them to take most of his best players, thereby further weak-ening the National League in this city. Possibly the National League men might object to such a meve and extend a hand of welcome to the syndicate, which stands ready to build a new ball park on Jerome avenue just north of the old McComb's Dam Bridge. It is doubtful, though, whether Freedman would make such a move.

League men are awaiting with interest the playing of a postnoned game between Brooklym and Cincinnati at Hoboken on Sept. 17, which is Sunday. The situation becomes complicated as there is a rule that each National League club governs the territory within five miles in all directions of its city, and that no other League glub can play within this limit. Hitherto the New York sith has objected to the violation of this rule, but the Brooking officials argue that as they have grounds in the Greater City, they have as much right to dictate as to the five mile limit as the Polo Grounds club.

distate as to the five mile limit as the Pelo Grounds club.

It is again stated by various League managers that the treatment received by unpires in Baltimore at the hands of Modraw and other rowdy members of his team should be censured by the magnates. In a recent game M'Graw mashed Umpire Mannassanin the face and was put off the field. The next day McGraw threatened to repeat his assanit it the umpire did not give to Baltimore "all that was coming." Then the opposing players as up a cry of "robbery" after it was over. The Baltimore papers have encouraged actiraw and his man in the perpetration of such acts, as the following extract would indicate: "The most conspicuous features of the game were the umpires. Both figured prominently in the projection of the second limit down a storm from both sides. Seep became ill, and in the middle of the second inning was compelled to retire from the same. He was then trembling like an aspensing a satirted that the difficulties of his position had made him sick. After that Mannassan officiated alone, and having twice as much to do, was about twice as bad. It might be well for Owners Van der Hast, Abell, Hanlon and Ebbets to insist upon the same enforcement of the rules in Baltimore as in Brecklyh, where the Superbas have on the whole played in the mest sports—

GONFALON'S FAST TIME.

PERRY NELMONT'S FONSO COLT WINS OFER FUTURITY COURSE.

MacLeod of Dare Captures the Dolphin Stakes at Sheepshead in Clever Style-Semper Ego Takes the Mincoln Hurdle Race Under Wrape-Garrison Rides Again

The racing at Sheepshead Bay yesterday maintained the high standard which is usu-Coney Island Jockey Club. Although threatening for a time to frown on the function, the weather gods turned out to be useful friends of Supt. Clarke, and after thoroughly aprinkling the track they shifted the clouds off and let in a flood of genial sunshine, which was heartily enjoyed by 4,000 visitors. The sport was in accord with the pleasant surroundings. the entries being up to the mark in both quantity and quality, while the competition was keen enough to keep enthusiasm alive throughout.

The star feature from a horseman's standpoint was the Dolphin, a stake for three-yearolds at one mile and a furlong. After her clever win of the day before Sydney Paget's filly Toluca was withdrawn, but C. Littlefield. jr., filled the gap on the programme by adding Fast Black. Mrs. McCiellan's Rayon d'Or colt His Lordship, ruled nominal favorite but possibly more money was invested on McLeod of Dare, Survivor and Gen. Mart Gary. A few badly behaved jockeys and horses spolled several promising breaks but starter Fitzgerald finally got them off in fair order with Maher on Lackland having slightly the worst of it, Fast Black was turn. Then MacLeod of Dare raced up to her and forging ahead steadily, won out by a length and a half. His Lordship lay back in the bunch to the stretch, but then he came along with a rattle and beat Gen. Mart Gary a head for the place. The others died in their tracks. Unusual interest was aroused by the Mineola Hurdle race, owing to the fact that Sydney Paget's George Keene and his jockey, Garrison, were making their debut between the flags. A wave of applause rippled along the stands from jogged his erratic mount down to the post, Garrison was by no means the veteran of the bunch, but they acted like crazy exercise boys out for an airing and the starter had more trouble getting them away than he found in the Futurity. Howard Mann was plunged on with unaccountable persistency, but considerable money also found its into the ring on behalf of Semper Ego. The latter proved to be the good thing, and after galloping in front under strong wraps most of the way, he won easily from Ben Eder. Garrison made a clever bid for a slice of the honors, and kept George Keens bang up in second place to the turn for home, where the colt tired to a canter and let up Ben Eder and Howard Mann. George Keens and "the Snapper" may be dangerous factors at the jumping game before snow files. Fourteen three-year olds turned out for the opening dash, but although they were a poor lot all round, the talent plunged on Theory as if she were a twin of Admiration. Dollie Wietfield for five furlongs but then Monadour came along, and well nursed by McCue, won by a head. The winner was entered to be sold for $1,000, and it won by a head. The winter was entered to be sold for $1,000, and it cost her owners $505 more to retain her. Dollie Wiethoff was second, half a longth in front of Chappaqua, who shut the favorite out of third money by a neck.

Jockey Maher struck one of his winning veins in the second race and after coddling Box home by a length and a half in front of Peep O'Day and Bannockburn, he followed up his luck by a clever win on Gonfalon. The latter came down the Futurity course without much urging in the remarkable time of 1:00, only a few fractions outside the best two-year-old record for the course. At that Lieut, Gibson ran the Belmont colt to a head, but the talent was aboard Gonfalon and his success was loudly cheered. McCue made it even up with Maher by landing MacLeod of Dare, but most of the regulars went a triffs wide of the mark, and did not recover their good humor until the last race, when Wolhurst came to the rescue. Maher on Myth tried to make it a post-to-post win, but the Pelshmann gelding got up in time to win oleverly by half a length. Myth beat Maximo Gomez a length for the place. Summary:

of Gerlach's was made known last night when the Race Committee of the Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island met. The meeting was called to perfect details for the race. Chair man Barnett of the committee was in receipt of a telegram from Gerlach, stating that he would be unable to come East to referee the race, and requested that Alex Schwalbach, the be appointed to act in his place. Schwalbach is a delegate to the Associated clubs, and also member of the Race Committee. He announced that he also had received a telegram from Gerlach requesting him to set and would do so or not at the pleasure of the committee, The action of Gerlach in originally accepting the offer to referee occasioned a great amount of criticism, as he would be ecognizing riders whom he had himselt suspended, and would also be countenancing by his presence a style of race not sanctioned by the L. A. W. His move in designating his suc-man for the office, as if it were a prerogative when they withdraw. The only con-struction that could be placed upon the doings of the Bacing Board Chairman is that he wanted to see a L. A. W. man acting acting as chief official over a race of such a notable character, promoted by an association that has been as a whole loyal to the League.

Gerlach's selection of his alternate was clever because Schwaibach being not only a charter recognized expert in road races. But the yield to the request of Gerlach, as it is questionable what the status of the race would ship Race-Victory for the R. A. C.

Only four more games remain to be played for the cricket championship of New York, and then the pennant will go to the Knickerbocker A. C., which will also retain the Metropolitan Cup. The two teams of the Knickerbocker's have had a hard struggle for the trophy, but there is little doubt that Team A will now gain it. The Manhattans are secure in third place. The New Yorks have worked hard to improve their position in the race, but Newark has not won a single victory.

CURED BY THE NEW TREATMENT.

Philadelphia, Aug. 8th, '99.

Dear Sirs-For the past eight or nine years I have been a constant and severe suferer from Dyspepsia. I have employed a number of doctors. Have tried all advertised dyspepsia cures I could get, without any benefit whatever. From the newspaper advertisements last winter I was led to try the R. T. Booth Co.'s Dyspepsia Cure. I began in January and was benefited immediately. From that time to June of the present year I used the tablets faithfully according to directions. I am now completely cured and have been for two months. I can eat and easily digest all kinds of solid food, whereas, formerly. I was limited entirely to the simplest forms of liquid food. I cannot recommend this cure too highly to sufferers from this complaint. I feel so gratified that I would gladly explain the circumstances of my cure to any one who might feel inclined SAMUEL BROUGHTON, to call upon me personally. No. 2619 North 29th St.

FOR JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIPS. Amendments to be Submitted at Annual

After the annual championship meeting of the A. A. U. at Boston last Saturday, Secretary James E. Sullivan came forward with a suggestion that in the future, an annual junior championship meeting be held in conjunction with the national meet, open only to those athletes who have not won national events. The idea which is a radical departure from custom in athletics, was well received and the proposer is now preparing an amendment to the Constitution, to be presented at the annual meeting of the A. A. U. It has long been felt that strong measures were necessary to restore athletics to the position in popular favor they held when there was a strong feeling of club rivalry, and a more decided feeling of compatition among individual athletes. At the championship meeting on Saturday the spirit of competition was reduced to a minimum, for with such formidable performers as Kraenglein, Flanagan, Grant, Baxter and Sheldon, of the N. Y. A. C., in the field. the entries from other sources were naturally

Secretary Sullivan's idea is to have both the junior and senior championships held on the same day, and to have the same rule of classification prevail that governs the novice, that is a winner of a national championship at running would still be eligible to compete for the junior championships in hurdling, jumping, walking or weight throwing. The national events, if the proposed change takes place will, as heretofore be open to all amsteurs, so that any newly developed phenomenon, will be allowed to pass the junior events if he desires and join issue with the cracks in the senior competitions.

In endorsing the proposal for junior championships Fred Wood of the Boston A. A. said that if the scheme had been tried at the last meeting a tremendous entry would have been received from the schools and athletic clubs of New England, but as it was, except in a few instances, they could not be induced to face certain defeat. There appears to be but little opposition to Secretary Sullivan's innovation. same day, and to have the same rule of class-hand last night to insure the success of the contest.

A French actress who recently arrived from Paris brought with her something new in the way of motor cycles which will soon be seen on the boulevards. It is a tandem arrangement with a place in front for the owner and a working seat behind for a footman or whoever does the "driving." It is built low, with picycle wheels, and constructed so that it can be converted into a tricycle for one person by removing two of the four wheels and centroing one of them in a pair of forks in front of the one of them in a pair of forks in front of the rear seat.

A New Yorker who has been making a trip over the sidepaths of Suffolk county, riding from Greenport to Brooklyn, writes to Tag Sun, as follows: "One thing noticeable about the sidepaths is that they are kept in such good condition, except in a tew places, that they are preferred by predestrians to the footpaths which run parallel to them, and in some localities these people take offence at the warning ringing of the bell. It sometimes happens that they actually force cyclists to take to the sandy rondway by their hoggishness. The tax on cyclists, which I found was rigidly enforced, is supposed to reserve these paths for their exclusive use. There is a fine for drivin a horse on them, and anyone throwing anything on the paths that will injure a bleycle or its rider is also a good footpath. These walkers are a menace to the safety of riders, especially when there is also a good footpath. These walkers are a menace to the safety of riders, especially when there is much travel on the paths. It becomes a dodging game from path to roadway. Why not fine these people? They are worse than a horse-drawn vehicle. Aside from this, the owner of a bleycle with time to kill could not find pleasanter riding than on these paths. They wind in and out past the old-fashioned villages, through gool woods, and over sait meadows. One could spend a week riding here and there, crossing and recrossing the island and still not see all the beauties of this 'evclist's paradise. This complaint is one that has been made before. It was not the purpose of the side-path, subtended redestrians from the paths, but they are supposed to give the cyclists, whose money built the path, the right of way, and as selfish and discourteous pedestrians have caused much trouble on the paths, the suggestion of fining them is not an inastone.

received from the schools and athletic clubs of New England, but as it was, except in a few instances, they could not be induced to face certain defeat. There appears to be but little opposition to Secretary Sullivan's innovation, and the chances are greatly in favor of the change being made at the annual meeting. The New York A. C. delegates did not favor the proposition in Boston, but Capt. Hausling has been thinking over the matter since his return to New York. He said yesterday: "There could be no denying the fact that the new departure would tend to increase the general interest in athletics, by providing an additional incentive for medium class athletics to train, and after winning a injury event their ambition would naturally lead them to continue training for another year in order to test their skill against the real champions."

Another amendment that will be proposed at the next annual meeting of the A. K. U. is more directly almed at the New York A. C. It is to strike out the clause allowing college undergraduates to compete from any club they wish, whether situated in the A. A. U. district of their home or college or not. If carried, this will be a savere blow to the premier club and will deprive it of the services of Kraeuzlein, their greatest star at the present time. The hurdler and broad jumper lives in the West and is a student of the University of Pennsylvania. He would be clearly outside of the New York A. C. fold unless he should leave college and come to New York to live. The rule allowing special privileges to collegians has been the subject of dissension at different times. When first framed it allowed a student to compete for a club either in the district of his home or college. In the spirit of antagonism developed against the New York A. C. a few years ago, this was wiped out entirely, but the rule was put back in its present form when, after a brief fight, the Union practically capitulated to the big club. Now the New England Association and Metropolitan Association and enteredically

There is promise of trouble in the Associated Cycling Clubs of New York owing to the action of the Firemen's Cycle Club in selecting a date for a century run and adhering to it when the sanction of the Association previously had been given to the Royal Arcanum Wheelmen for a run on the same date. At their last meeting the Associated Clubs adopted the following:

**Resolved**. That the Firemen's Cycle Club be notified that the Boyal Arcanum Wheelmen had previously been granted Sept. 10, 1899, as the date for their forthcoming fall century run, and that the association cannot associated Cycle Club for the same date, and that the entury run proposed by the Firemen's Cycle Club for the same date, and that the lister club be requested to select another date for their century run. Since this action was taken a notice has been sent out by the firemen stating that their run will be held in spite of anything said to the contrary. The Royal Arcanumities under similar circumstances last year gave way to the firemen, but they are determined to fight the matter out this season. They will go shead with the century on the same date and afterward the case will be brought up for dissipline in the association on the part of the association and it is hard to predict what will be done in the case of so influential a body as the firemen going contrary to the asplicit directions of the organization in defiance of ene of its established laws.

At the curbstone in front of one of the old time, but still wide-awake, club houses a heavily built member with an iron-gray mustache waited for some of the younger members to arrive and grew philosophical meanwhile. A. L. Wright Incligible to Compete for New

The Championship Committee of the A. A. U. at Boston refused to accept the entry of A. L. Wright of Newton, Mass., as a representative of the New York A.C. Wright's claim to rep-resent the New Yorks was based on his being a student of Brown University. A letter from the Registrar of the University stating that he had left Brown settled the matter, and the had left Brown settled the matter, and the committee premptly ordered that his entry be accepted from Newton, Mass.

The most serious phase of the situation is that the action of the committee practically disqualifies Wright for the three-mile Metropolitan championship which he won at Knickerhoeker Field on Aug. 12. His only right to commete in that event would be as a member of the New York A. C.; otherwise he is only eligible for the New England district championship. The Championship Committee of the Metropolitan Association will notify Wright to return the first medal, which will then be forwarded to Gus Hahn of the Arbor A. C. of Albauy, who finished second.
